Rainbow—

Dedication

It is with pride that we dedicate the 1946 Rainbow to

ANTON PAUL MARKERT

who has been untiring in cooperation and efficient in service; who is honored, respected, and admired by the students, individually and collectively, and whose loyalty, integrity, and friendliness fully exemplify the spirit of these two schools.

Foreword

In this, the 1946 Rainbow, we have earnestly endeavoured to set forth the events and activities of these institutions to serve as an inspiration to the students, that in future years they may recall the memories and pleasant moments, and thereby bind themselves more closely to their Alma Mater.

IN MEMORIAM

In reverent and loving memory of all former students of The Academy of Richmond County and The Junior College of Augusta who gave their lives in the cause of our Country in the recent World War.

"It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought . . . have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us; that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain. . . ."

SOME MEN THINK THAT THE GRATIFICATION OF CURIOSITY IS THE END OF KNOWLEDGE; SOME, THE LOVE OF FAME; SOME, THE LOVE OF DISPUTE; SOME, THE NECESSITY OF SUPPORTING THEMSELVES BY THEIR KNOWLEDGE; BUT THE REAL USE OF ALL KNOWLEDGE IS THAT WE SHOULD DEDICATE THAT REASON WHICH WAS GIVEN TO US BY GOD TO THE USE AND ADVANTAGE OF MANKIND. Last Will and Testament of the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty-six of the Junior College of Augusta

We, the Sophomore Class of J. C. A., being of broken health and dubiously sound mind do here declare and publish this, Our Last Will and Testament:

- ITEM I I, Barbara R. Kirkland, do will and bequeath my ability to imitate other members of the class to Bebe Wheeler who appreciates it so.
- ITEM II We, Anne Farriba and Bobby Folds, do will and bequeath "our" window opposite the auditorium to the most faithful couple of next year.
- ITEM III I, J. W. Rhine, will and bequeath my thirteen free periods a week to Anna Olive in hope that she may not be as bored as I.
- ITEM IV We, Louise M. Allen and Jeanette Bush, do will and bequeath our rapid speech to Martha Rheney and Maude Ella Purkall who could use it.
- ITEM V I, Lala Mulherin, do will and bequeath one whole package of cigarettes, all her own, to Frances Anne Jenkins.
- ITEM VI I, Ralph Veal, do will and bequeath all my ability to go steady to George "Casanova" Harth.
- ITEM VII I, Betty Lauthner, do will and bequeath all the trouble I got into writing the gossip for the Musketeer to Connie King and Nancy Ewing in the hope that they will carry on.

ITEM VIII I, Bill Harris, do will and bequeath to anyone foolish enough to go steady, my free time to look at the good looking girls in the hall.

ITEM IX I, Mary Rupert, do will and bequeath my rosy cheeks to all the pale girls who have to wear rouge.

ITEM X We, Jackie Hodges and Peggy Knuck, do will and bequeath our superb skill at basketball to Betty Knuck so that J. C. A. Girl's team may win a game next year.

ITEM XI I, Mary Chase von Sprecken, do will and bequeath my half of the Girl's Room table to Bebe Wheeler so that she too may sleep during free periods.

ITEM XII I, Coral Banks, do will and bequeath my knitting, without which I am never seen, to Betty Gilliland, to occupy her mind.

ITEM XIV We, Anne Philpot and Sheldon Cohen, do will and bequeath our beloved German class, of which we are the only members, to anyone who enjoys being called on.

ITEM XV I, Mary Smaragdis, do will and bequeath my seat by the windows in each class to my sister Bessie, that she too may shoot the breeze.

ITEM XVI I, Miriam Patterson, do will and bequeath my brains and my position in the book store to any ambitious freshman.

ITEM XVII I, Leonard Verdery, do will and bequeath the presidency of the Mighty Triangle Club to some worthy freshman to carry on.

ITEM XVIII I, Georgia Johnson, do will and bequeath my ability to make "static" to any freshman who likes to talk.

ITEM XIX I, Shirley Wilensky, do will and bequeath my hand writing to posterity in the hope that they may decipher it and prove that it is not hieroglyphics.

ITEM XX I, Clark Cordle, do will and bequeath my royal blue eyes to some freshman who enjoys being gazed at.

ITEM XXI I, Betty Middleton, do will and bequeath my back seat in English Class to any future sophomore who may wish to keep as close watch as I did over Mr. Read in his smoking room.

ITEM XXII We, Joyce Hale and Lulyanne Seigler do will and bequeath our huge appetites and diets to Dot Morris and Barbara Covar with the hope that they can combine the two.

ITEM XXIII I, Charles Petty, do will and bequeath my many wise-cracks and jokes to the J. C. A. teachers for uhe in future years.

ITEM XXIV I, Bill Sacre, do will and bequeath my great military ability to next year's colonel.
We, the Class of 1946 do will and bequeath to the Class of 1947 our hopes for a cleaner, more orderly school, a Music Festival next year.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty-six of the Academy of Richmond County

We, the class of '46, living the past four years in desperation, do see fit to bequeath to our fellow students a portion of our fame, wealth, fortune, and knowledge of this great institution. Having taken laurels, honors, and talents in these years we do sincerely hope and plead that on passing down to our younger Academites, they may accomplish extraordinary achievements in this great world. Thus we hereby state and produce this manifesto as our Last Will and Testament. To Wit:

- Item 1. Tom Algood leaves his booth at the King's Way Pharmacy to "Junior" Moore.
- Item 2. To Tony Allen. Hale Barrett leaves his uniform coat, in hopes that Tony will be warm next winter.
- Item 3. Ralph Boerckel leaves his howed legs to Tom Clayton, who we hope will win in the Rodeo next year.
- Item 4. To Mr. Hains, T. B. Bowden gives one year to calculate the cube root of a vacuum.

Item 5. Billie Burch leaves his military step to Melvin Here-lik, in hopes that Melvin will become a first class corporal in the Yugoslavian guards.

Item 6. To Bobby Graham, Billy Bussey leaves his thick, well groomed hair.

Item 7. Sewell Camp leaves to Clarence Muns his great big diamond bar. We hope that Muns will be in charge of the 4th Battalion next year.

Item 8. John Childress leaves his football tactics to Charlie Penn, that Charlie may be able to hold down both ends of the line.

Item 9. With G. I. A. A. medals all over his jersey, Bobby DeVaney leaves his shorts to Barry Blemker.

Item 10. Johnny Green leaves his "Be-Be" bat to anyone man enough to take over.

Item 11. To his little brother Billy, Carter Hagler leaves his way with the women, and his jitterbugging ability.

Item 12. Hall Peebles leaves his slim, well developed midriff to Morris Warr.

Item 13. Charles Hoover leaves the Beta Club to some illiterate junior, who we hope will remember that "Beta Club" spelled backwards gives "Bule Ateh."

Item 14. Harry Kitchens leaves his "waterhead" to his baby brother Lamar Collie.

Item 15. Pierce Marks leaves to Mr. Talley his well-developed legs, so that Mr. Talley can illustrated accelerated motion without getting tired.

Item 16. Willis Miller leaves his neck and foreign language to the Augusta Zoo, if they can't afford a giraffe.

Item 17. Frank O'Connor leaves his trick knee, which jumps out of step when drilling in cadence to Ollie Wheeler, who we hope will find a way out of drill next year.

Item 18. To "Junior" (Gene Autry) Davis, Ivan Parker leaves his shiftiness and swivel-hips, in hopes that "Junior" will use them in his dominating chess game.

Item 19. Billy Richardson leaves his motorcycle jaunts at the fifth and sixth periods to "Snag" McCann, with hopes that Mr. Hardy may be able to conduct a class.

Item 20. Gordon Walters leaves his drum sticks to a well trained musician.

Item 21. Jack Waterston leaves his seven years service stripe to any one capable of coming near his all-school record.

Item 22. Under conditions which are beyond our control, the Faculty prevents Harry Stathos from leaving anything at all.

Item 23. North Williamson leaves his "fuzz" to Billy Phinizy, who we hope will not have to change his face but once a day.

Item 24. To the Class of '47, we, the Class of '46 leave: Our conversation in the corridors; our detention hall hours; our struggle for the return of our military rating; our desire for senior privileges; our want of a much needed school spirit; and last but not least, our technique with the opposite sex in the entire city of Augusta.

The Under Classmen

FLEMING, WHEELER, FARLOW, HARBIN

Juniors

PRESIDENT	JOHN FLEMING
VICE-PRESIDENT	BERT HARBIN
SECRETARY	OLLIE WHEELER
TREASURER	WRAY FARLOW

Our underclassmen do not ordinarily come in for very much attention in the year book, but a scanning of the pages of THE RAINBOW will show that they are a very real part of the school. Large numbers of the boys will be found playing on the various athletic teams, both A and B Varsity teams. In fact, some of the stars are often found to come from these classes. Spring training for football, which is in progress as our book goes to press, has found about thirty freshmen among the large number of boys turning out. Two literary societies function to care for the needs of these boys. Many of the younger boys are contributing much to the school music program, especially in the band. Some of the younger boys have done good work in helping with our publications. All in all, we consider the underclassmen very important people.

The Sheridan Sabre

MRS. LESTER, CAPT. JACK BANKS, MISS SARAH JANE FARLOW

The Richard B. Sheridan Sabre is an award made annually by the Reserve Officers Association. The award is made in memory of Richard Sheridan who was an honor student of the Richmond Academy and Junior College, and who lost his life on the football field at Yale.

The cherished Sabre is awarded to the cadet, who in the opinion of the Military and Academic committees approaches closest the noble figure of Richard B. Sheridan. Therefore, the student must excel in all phases of his school life and relationships.

The winner of the Sabre must be popular, clean, and an unaffected gentleman. He must have a high quality of academic work, be a good athlete, an outstanding cadet, and show in his conduct the virtues of honesty, sincerity and courage. And the winner of this Sabre must show that same spirit of aggressiveness which Richard B. Sheridan displayed as he plunged for the goal on the football field that fateful afternoon—only to be met by the unconquerable foe of all brave men—death.

The winners of the award in the past are:

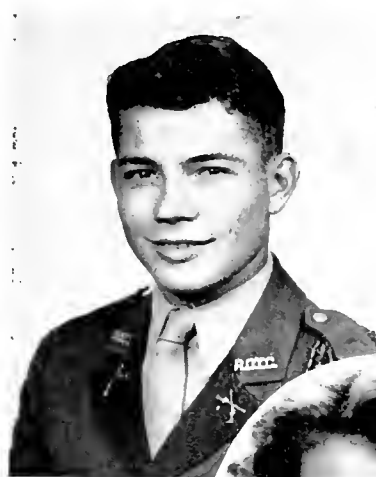

1933 Frank Burnley
1934 Jackie Stephens
1935 Dorroh Nowell
1936 Alex Doremus
1937 Harry Mobley
1938 John Hains

The Scruggs Sabre

The Scruggs Memorial Sabre is awarded annually by Prof. C. A. Scruggs in memory of his son, J. Bland Scruggs, who was an outstanding student in the Academy of Richmond County at the time of his untimely passing

This Sabre is awarded each year to that member of the Senior Class of the Academy of Richmond County who in the judgment of the Honors Committee most nearly approaches the stature of J. Bland Scruggs in high scholarship, military bearing, and efficiency and in extra-curricular activities. Every department of student life is considered in this award, and most important is the fact that the cadet who receives this award must be of absolutely unimpeachable character.

The previous winners of this award have been as follows:

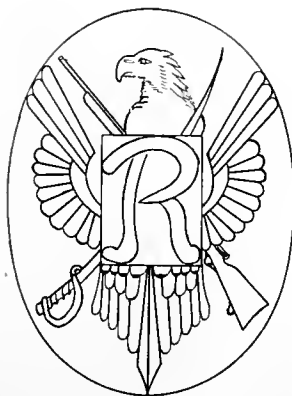

William Reiser,	1943
John Cochrane,	1944
Bobby Usry,	1945

The Rifle Team this year has been under the very able direction of S/Sgt. Charley W. Tully, a combat infantryman. The team exhibited the results of their fine coaching when they beat Benedictine 1175 to 1096 at The Academy Range. Soon after this victory, the Cadets traveled to Savannah where they again beat Benedictine. This time the score was A.R.C. 1186 and Benedictine 1151. While in the city of Savannah, The Musketeer Team also fired against Savannah High. There was a narrow margin in the score with the Richmond Team losing. Savannah scored 1195 to Richmond's 1177. The Rifle Team this year also fired in The Fourth Service Command Match, The William Randolph Hearst Match, and The Intercollegiate Match. William H. Lewis was top man this year. Barry Whitney was Captain of the Team.

THE TEAM LISTED IN FIRING ORDER. WM. H. LEWIS, BARRY WHITNEY, WM. SHIPMAN, BOBBIE USRY, TOM HAGLER, CLARENCE SAVAGE, BOBBIE MULLIGAN, ADRIAN COHEN, BOBBIE ANSLEY, JAMES McARTHUR, PAUL SMITH, ERNEST PUND, BILLY KENNEDY, WM. H. FLEMING, AND CARTER B. HAGLER.

Richmond's football season this year was better than expected, with six wins, three defeats, and three ties. Although with injuries and loss of players, the Musketeers, under the watchful eye of Roy Rollins, head coach returned from the Army, and Bernie Ward, developed into a first class machine which deserved full appraisal.

A. R. C. 6—Glynn Academy 0

On a wet rainy September 14, the Musketeers defeated a big Glynn Academy eleven by a score of 6-0. Richmond's lone score came shortly after the start of the game with John Adams going over. Adams' attempt for the extra point failed. Both teams drew heavy penalties for unnecessary roughness, and fumbled the slippery ball several times. Charlie Penn, Harry Kitchens, John Fleming, and John Adams played the entire game.

A. R. C. 24—Catholic High 0

The following week, the Cadet's "T" ran wild, racking up four T.D.'s against our Irish rival from the East Side. The Musketeers took over from the start with Adams trotting over for the tally. After the next kickoff, B.C.H.S. gained yardage with passes and quarterback sneaks, but to no avail. Dunaway pulled down one of their passes to start the Richmond machine rolling again. Parker took the ball on the enemy 17 and was over to rack up six more points. Two more T.D's were made by Richmond in the last half with Jordan and Adams doing the toting.

A. R. C. 0—Tech High 39

Disaster! The Tech High Smithies scored almost at will against the hard-fighting but outclassed Musketeers. Only Jordan's kicking showed up well for the Cadets, with his getting off several sixty or seventy yard punts. Tech-Hi used three strings to crush Richmond.

A. R. C. 13—Jordan 38

The next week the Cadets were again soundly beaten by the Jordan Red Imps. The boys from Columbus scored in every quarter. The Cadets finally came back with a fast scoring attack just before the half. The rest of the game was featured with plenty of quick kicks and one more A.R.C. score.

A. R. C. 13— Columbus 13

The Musketeers moved down into Columbus territory on October 19th to engage the Red Devil team. The Cadets outfought and outplayed their enemies throughout the game. The game was highlighted by Ivan Parker's 78 yard run. Columbus' Magoni crossed the Richmond line twice for their tallies. Charlie Penn accounted for the other Richmond score with a pass from John Fleming.

A. R. C. 19—Athens 7

With five members of the first string out, A.R.C. downed a powerful Maroon and White team. In the first quarter Athens scored with large gains through center. Shortly afterwards Childress recovered a fumble and DeVaney took the opportunity to score on the following play. In the second quarter it was DeVaney and Childress again, with the latter taking a pass and scrambling for 34 yards and a T.D. Late in the third quarter Parker broke loose for the final score.

A. R. C. 6—Lanier 44

The Macon Poets came here to pay us a visit which ended in terms of not-so-poetical language. Rated by everyone as defeated before started, the Cadets did play a fair game of ball. Billy Henderson ran wild at the Musketeer's expense. It was not until the third period that "Seatback" Parker carried the pigskin for the lone tally. Most of the game saw a fanatical defense trying to stop a never ending onslaught.

A. R. C. 25—Marist 13

The Musketeers jumped into the "win" column when they trounced the Blue Jackets from Atlanta. On a pass from Fleming, Penn secured the first score of the fray. The Cadets came out at the half with more pep. Fleming, Beale, and Parker furnished the other scores.

A. R. C. 6—Savannah 6

This was quite a disheartening game for the greatly improved Musketeers. The only score for Richmond came in the first quarter when Fleming scored standing up on a 57 yard run. The Bluejackets score came later, when they took over the ball after Jordan's kick. Vern Hodo's tackling was a highlight of the game.

A. R. C. 31—Riverside 0

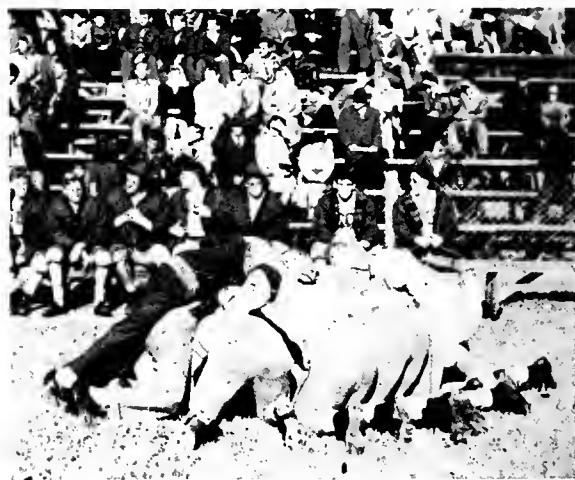

On a freezing cold Turkey day the Purple and Gold football machine trampled Riverside's "River-rats." No one Richmond player could be separately praised, as the entire team functioned beautifully.

A. R. C. 28—Catholic High 0

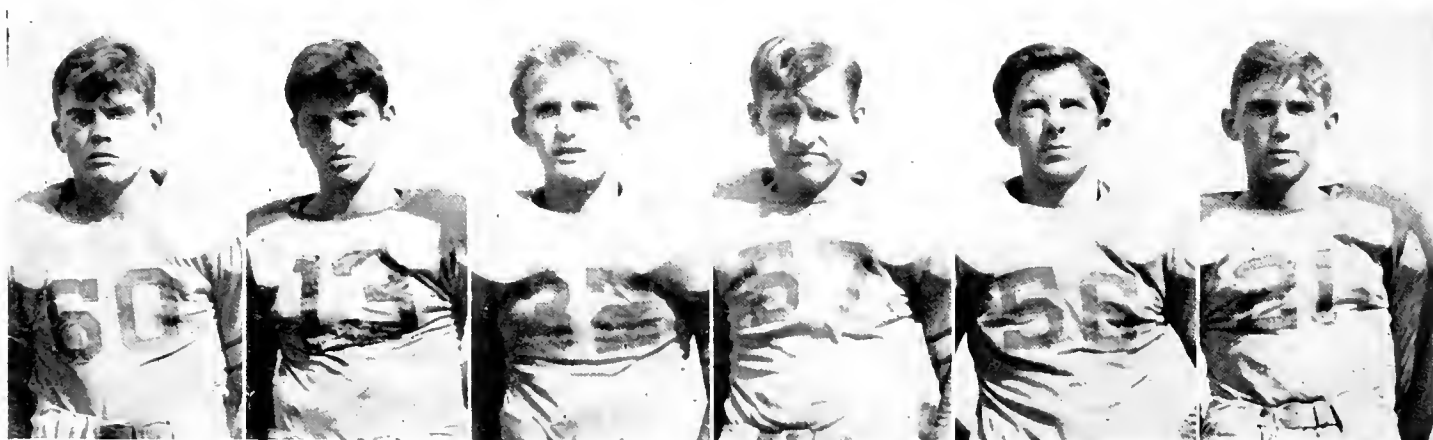

Playing in a post-season game, the Richmond Musketeers downed a light Shamrock eleven. The rugged Cadets outpointed their opponents in every department. Richmond completed 13 out of 15 passes attempted, and gained 14 first downs to 6 for the Irish. Fleming tossed passes throughout the game to both ends. De-Vaney, Parker, and Weeks took turns in hammering the Irish flanks and secondary.

This game completed a season which promised to be dark for the Cadets but turned out very satisfactorily. The team as a whole and almost every player as a part improved steadily throughout the season.

"B" Varsity Football

The "B" squad started the season on September the by journeying across the river to meet North Augusta, where they came out on the loose end of a 36-6 score. The next week the team went down again before the Graniteville attack, 28-0. On November 11th, back on home soil, they lost a tight game to Waynesboro, 7-6. Langley-Bath was the next to invade Augusta winning a 34-6 victory, which left the team "tired" of losing.

On October 25th a "B" team, with renewed vigor, trounced Edgefield 19-0, with Rice, Cockerel, and Hixon scoring. The next week was disappointing with a 26-0 defeat from Allendale. Coming back to avenge the first 7-6 defeat from Waynesboro, the Junior Cadets journeyed deep into the woods again, this time with Henderson and Hixon sparking the team. The A.R.C. "B" team rolled over the "Purples" 27-6 to end the season with two victories and five losses.

The standouts for the past season for the "Bees" were Boerckel, Kirkland, Hixon, Woodward, Steward, Rice, Mills, and Walker. There will probably be a larger number of "B" team cadets graduating to the "A" team this year than in any other of the past three years.

The Richmond Cage team this year was composed of good material. A team with hard luck and very few breaks, the Musketeers completed a schedule of hard-fought games against G.I.A.A. competition this season. Usually out-scored and always meeting taller teams, the Richmond five never gave up in any game.

The team was ably coached by Wendell Sullivan, who had been in the Navy for four years.

The mainstay of the Cadets was their captain and third-year man, Bobby DeVaney. DeVaney had the upper hand in every Richmond victory, compiling an average close to 17 points a game. His 28 points against Benedictine set a new G.I.A.A. record.

Other Richmond high scorers were: Blemker, Clayton, Richardson, Wheeler, and Fleming.

The B-Varsity quintet was beset with a rather hard season this year. With only one returnee from last year's team, and the rest all newcomers to basketball, Coach Nixon worked with these "rookies" and developed a team that ought to provide

Regardless of its many defeats, the J. C. A. Girls' Basketball Team of 1946 displayed much determination and much improvement as the season advanced. Due to the scarcity of J. C. A. players, the first scheduled game of the season with the Arsenal was forfeited.

After being well-organized, however, the J. C. A. squad made a grand opening against the powerful WAC team of Camp Gordon, with Annette Popkin, forward, scoring the most points for J. C. A.

This unfortunate set-back seemed to steady the team and to make it more determined than ever; for, in its next appearance with Tubman, the game was tied until the last two minutes when Tubman scored two extra points.

The college group fought courageously in the next four games, but were unable to match the speed and precision of their superior opponents.

On account of the opponent's lack of players, the last scheduled game of the season with the Sandwich Shop was forfeited to J. C. A.

Each member of the J. C. A. team deserves especial credit for her conscientious effort to make this basketball team a success.

COACH ROLLINS

Under the guiding hand of Roy Rollins, the Junior College basketball squad chalked up an impressive list of victories, both in city competition and in state competition.

The Jaguars looked gloomy at the beginning of their season, but because of the return of two lanky veterans, they developed into an unbeatable aggregation.

The J. C. A. cagers won six non-conference games and lost two, one of them being the semi-finals in the Georgia junior college championship.

A successful team throughout the season, Junior College was led by such scorers as Veal, Short, Cohen, Harris, and McAbee.

So far this season the team has chalked up a record of four wins and two losses.

The team consists of Barry Blemker, George Maxwell, Billy Phinizy, and Walker Inman, with Billy Parsons as alternate man for the squad.

The boys under guidance of Coach Wendell Sullivan, have in store for them this season an outstanding array of matches and trips.

This year's tennis team finds the return of four veterans of last year's team. The team has progressed fairly well in spite of the fact that they have been without a coach thus far. The team this year is a team of equally matched boys, and will most likely come near the top at the end of the season.

---Cheerleaders---

The cheerleaders this year should be highly rewarded for their excellent leadership in school spirit at the football games. We certainly know that through their hard work the team and the entire school profited by their cheering. The cheerleaders this year added a number of new cheers which were accepted enthusiastically. From a group of sixteen the following eight cheerleaders were selected by the upper classes: Irvin Pund head cheerleader, Frank O'Connor, E. L. Perry, Jack Sherman, Connie King, Betty Gilliland, Dot Morris, and Barbara Covar. We are very grateful to each one of you for the swell job you did this year. We cannot forget the enjoyment we got out of your cheering and your antics.

The Triangle Club has been the outstanding club this year in the matter of school spirit. They have engaged in decorating the football stadium, giving the only student dance of the year, and bringing 12 ministers to Chapel. The Mighty Triangle, as the club was affectionately called, also gave a Hayride, a "Going Away Party," and a party at Kathwood Lake embracing a dance, picnic, and moonlight boat rides. The Club had several interesting programs during the year and even began publishing a newspaper, THE TALKING TRIANGLE, which was well received by the student body. The initiations were funnier than ever and The Triangle Boys were really sights in their rat caps. The motto for the year was VIVA LA TRIANGLE!

The Beta Club

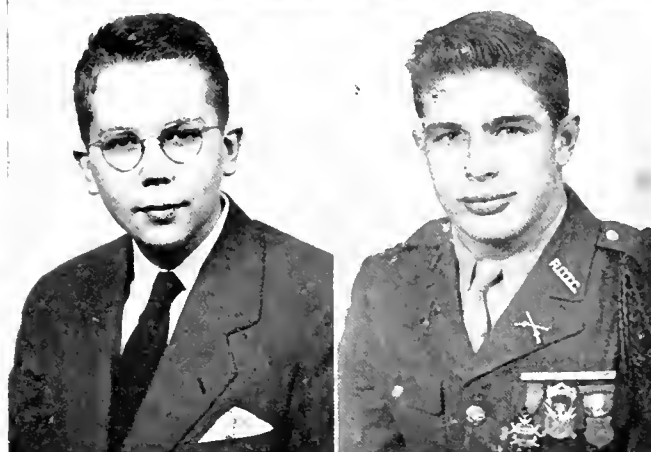

The Beta Club is a national organization composed of high school students who have an outstanding scholastic average and upright character. To be eligible for election to the local chapter, a boy must have an average of at least 90% for three or more semesters. A high school average of 85% must be maintained.

The Richmond Academy Beta Club has had a very active year. Under the excellent guidance of Mr. William Hardy, the faculty advisor, many interesting activities have been carried out. All the members have enjoyed the fine programs which have been presented, and several social activities have been held.

One of the highlights of the year was the State Beta Club Convention in Atlanta, at which Billy Fleming of the local chapter was elected state president.

Gold "R" Society

Founded in 1931, the Gold R Society was organized to recognize student leadership in the various phases of academy life. Membership in the Gold R means that the student has an outstanding record in three of the following fields: leadership, athletics, military, and literary and arts. He must also have a satisfactory scholastic average. Class officers, members of the student council, cheer leaders, active members of approved clubs—all these receive credit for leadership. The literary and arts group includes certain other activities: for example, membership in the Literary Society, Musketeer or Rainbow staff, debating team, glee club, or orchestra, and participating in declamation or oratorical contests. Yes, members of the Gold R Society are the best all-round students in the school.

Major Mills Says Corps Improving

Expresses Satisfaction With
New Schedule

"The training is progressing very satisfactorily," This was the comment recently made by Major H.
P. Mills, Professor of Military Science and Tactics for the R.O.T.C.
Unit.

The Major says the purpose of this training is to develop qualities of leadership and physical well being which, in turn, develops team work, and citizenship among students.

It was thought to be a very wise policy this year to change from one period of theoretical instruction per week per student, to two periods per week, as is now being done.

This work is supplemented by the use of modern text books, which contain the latest data from all the training manuals the Army has issued.

It was also decided this year that sufficient instruction in the close and extended-order drill could be taught in four periods a week instead of the five of last year.

The selection of officers is now in progress. There will be approximately forty of the student military leaders this year.

Student Council

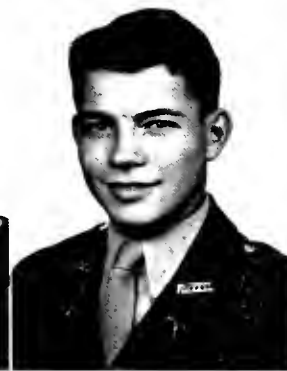

CHARLIE PENN
Pres.

BETTY GILLILAND
Vice-Pres.

JOHN FLEMING
Sec.

CLARENCE SAVAGE
Treas.

The Student Council, because it has not been rated among the higher organizations in the past, has now decided to make a new one. The new one will consist of the honor boys of the Academy, the Gold "R" boys, the original Student Council which consists of the class president and two representatives from each class, and the honor girls coming up from Tubman, also the honor girls already in Junior College. The new plans for the reconstruction of the Student Council got under way March 28th. A meeting to elect new officers was held April 29th. The officers of the original Student Council are: Charlie Penn, President; Betty Gilliland, Vice-President; John Fleming, Secretary; Clarence Savage, Treasurer. Others members are Bill Harris, Leonard Verdery, George Harth, Irvin Pund, John Childress, Kitchens, H., Maxwell, G., Phinzy, B., Allen, T., Methvin, P., Raines, B., Kelly R., Henry, H., Stewart, J.

REFLECTION

As I try to see the future
Through a haze of midnight tears,
I think of all the emptiness
I'll feel for many years.

I've wondered and I'm hoping
That in future years you'll know
Success in all you undertake.
No matter where you go.

I close my eyes and see your face
As clear as it can be.
"Perhaps," I say, "it's God's own way
To keep you near to me."

—J. W. Rhine, Jr.

MOONLIGHT

O heart, thou art beholden
To moonlight,
Gleaming, gilded and golden
Where wildly waters rush,
Where woeful willows brush
The silver stirring streams.
O heart, dearer are dreams
In moonlight.
Stars may shimmer and shine,
But the moon, the moon is thine,
O heart, in the Southern night—
The moonlight!

—Margie Wren.

SNOW

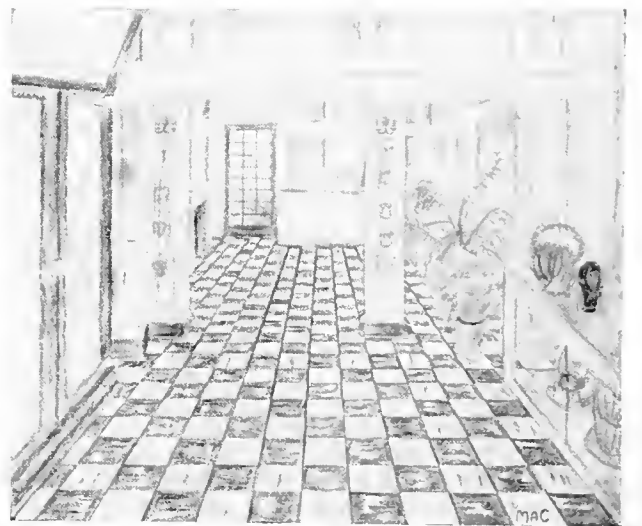

As I look from my window I see—snow
Falling in gallant whiteness.
It covers the ground, the trees,
And seems to hide all from view.
It dances, prances, swirls and whirls,
And I gaily laugh to see the tiny flakes coming toward me.

The black naked trees are trimmed with it—
Each tiny bush and shrub holds up the snow with its leaves
To show the world its loveliness.
Its swirling, dancing motion—
Would set a marble heart afire

Its falling—falling—dancing—laughing—with me.
And children come from everywhere
Laughing and jingling bells—all is gay.

And then the night—
It drifts—slowly, dreamily down to earth
Falls on the roof tops
And is silent.
It tenderly covers the trees and grass—
And gives all a Holy atmosphere.
Its pure beauty holding all so close—
Ah! Spring was never like this.

—Anna Olive.

TO MY BROTHER ON VICTORY DAY

The bullets cease, Church Bells ring,
The people shout, and choirs sing.
But there is sadness in my heart
From all this happiness apart
Because you died before Victory came.
Then as I softly speak your name,
I hear your easy familiar voice
Bring a message which makes me rejoice:

"I am not dead and lying still,
Nor does some cold grave my body fill.
For out there on battle's hell
Some flying enemy shell
Brought death to me, but now I live
For you, Honey Chile, my life I give.

"There was One long ago, much greater than we,
Who gave His life for you and me.
My life I give, and glory in giving,
That you may have more abundant living.

"As for Victory, I saw it all.
Today I saw Unrighteousness fall,
And Goodness rise and show its light,
For nothing can triumph over Right.
I saw my Church and school today;
I saw you when you knelt to pray.

"Yes, I saw Victory and Victory's gain,
And I'm glad I have not died in vain,
For I helped bring the day when men will be brothers,
And all will unselfishly live for others.

"Stop being sad for I'm sure you know
When the time comes each one must go.
I am forever close to the ones I hold dear,
Just stretch out your hand, I'm always near.

"The years may be many, the years may be few,
That separate me, Honey Chile, from you,
However long or short they may be,
We'll be together in Eternity."

—Nancy L. Williams

MYSTERY

How strange that unseen bonds
Should stronger be, firmer hold
Than all the divers chains
That man does make from metals cold.

How strange that mystical love
Should bind two hearts quite fast
When love is not seen nor heard
And no other link would last.

— Margie Wren.

THE INNOCENTS

Kittens
Steal beneath sofas to see the dragon
But are sometimes disappointed.

—Charles Benson.

THE TRAGEDIAN

The wail of the inebriate
Rings loud against the curbstone,
And gently is echoed back
Into the gutter.

—Charles Benson.

REMINISCENT

While I sit in the solitude of a quiet summer's day,
Letting my mind wander far, far away,
I find myself thinking of times that we've had,
Praising the good, cursing the bad.
We used to have fun, just you and I,
Until someone else came into your life.
I can't tell you why, but I love you still.
I know you can love me! I hope that you will.

—Frelon Wm. Mitchell

CONFESSION

I've always loved you from the start.
I think I always will. Sweetheart.
I often wonder why I do:
But the only reason I find is you.
You seem to hold me in a spell.
Why this is I cannot tell.
Your lips, your hair, your nose, your eyes,
Are all like gifts from paradise.

—Frelon Wm. Mitchell.

On bright, sunny mornings, I like to watch the activities at the bird bath below my window. A little, soft, brown sparrow hops gently up to the water and looks cautiously around. He takes a sip of water, lifts his head, and swallows. A sudden, loud screech from a blue jay drives the tiny sparrow away. The jay swoops down to the ground in a flurry of blue and white. He jumps into the water. My, how he can splash! After he finishes his bath, he gives himself a shake and flies away to an oak tree, where he preens and plucks himself in the sun. The bird bath is now only half as full as it was. Other birds, such as cardinals, brown thrushes, and house wrens, flock to the bath during the course of the morning, but, always, no matter what kind of bird is there, the blue jay takes over. The blue jay is king.

Watching birds is like watching a miniature world and observing the habits of small, brightly-clothed people.

—Marcella Ann Mitchell

I'LL THINK OF YOU

I'll think of you at morning
When night draws to a close,
And the slanting rays of breaking dawn
Are shimmering on the rose;

And I'll think of you at evening
When twilight shadows fall
For to me you are my everything—
My hope, my joy, my all!

And when the war's grim terrors cease—
And the flag of peace hangs high,
Then we'll be together again—
Love, and you, and I.

—Lillian Weathersbee.

WINTER WIND

Dale stood like a statue in the falling snow. Her burning eyes looked upon the tall building with an expression of despondency. Soft strains of music sounded dimly from the Concert Hall. A sudden gleam lighted her face, erasing the sorrow and despair. As if irresistably drawn, Dale moved toward the sound of the music. The massive door swung wide; she entered. She stood at the back of the dimly lighted auditorium, a slim figure, half-covered with snow.

When Paul Lavardens looked up from the piano, he saw her standing there.

"What are you doing in here?" he shouted. "Get out!"

Dale moved quickly toward the stage.

"Please, please Monsieur Lavardens! Just one word." Lavardens' deep-set eyes regarded the girl quizzically. How small, how helpless she seemed.

"What do you want?" he muttered.

"I want—well, I want you to play something," she blurted. "Oh, something very special to me!"

"What is it, child?" asked Lavardens more gently. He saw with ready perception the sad lines etched on the girl's face. He too had known great sorrow; even now he felt his power as a musician slipping away, in spite of all he could do to hold it.

"It is the Black Key Etude by Chopin," she said softly.

As Dale came up on the stage, the great musician began to play; but something was lacking. Perhaps an amateur might play Chopin thus, but not the great Lavardens. Where was his usual feeling and understanding? Where was his superb technique? Abruptly he banged upon the keys and sat motionless. Something of a sob convulsed his stooped shoulders.

"I cannot. I cannot." It was uttered in a toneless voice as though the life had gone out of him.

"Yes, you you can," Dale spoke compassionately. "Let me tell you about my sister, Diana." An inspired look came into her eyes; she seemed to be glowing from within. "Diana was a musician. Music was her soul and her soul was music. When she played, her spirit seemed to go out of her and enter the music. Then an almost unearthly beauty would shine in her face. Her favorite composer was Chopin; she especially liked his Black Key Etude but preferred to call it by its other name, the Winter Wind Etude. When she would play this on a winter evening, the snow and icy wind seemed to fill the room. Only she was alive, and burning, burning like a flame in the snow. Never very strong, she easily succumbed to an illness which left her an invalid. She no longer had the proper use of her hands; she could not play. What more is there to say? She lived only for music, and when that was taken from her, she died. Now we are apart. I feel that I could find Diana again if only you would play for me as Diana once played. Would you try, Monsieur Lavardens?"

Deeply moved by Dale's eloquent plea, Lavardens began to play. If Paul Lavardens had been a great musician before, he was greater now. Never had he played so magnificently. The Winter Wind came gustily blowing through the great hall.

"I can play! I have my power, my feeling back! Thank—" As he turned to thank Dale, he saw that no one was there. Only melting snow where she had stood. Forth from the hall he rushed. No one was on the street. The snow fell swiftly; the wind whistled around the corner of the building. At last realizing that Dale had disappeared, Lavardens returned to the Concert Hall.

Thereafter Lavardens reached new heights in success. Whenever he played the Winter Wind Etude, he remembered a slight girl with burning eyes, who told of her sister Diana, Diana who was like a flame in the snow. Then he would wonder if the girl were a vision, a dream, or a heaven sent inspirer; and sometimes he dreamed of meeting the two sisters in some musical Paradise where he would hear Diana play celestial strains.

—Margie Wren.

THE MONKEY'S VIEWPOINT

Three Monkeys sat in a coconut tree
 Discussing things that are said to be;
 Said one to the other, "Now, listen,
 you two:
 There are certain rumors that can't be true—
 That man descended from our noble race.
 The very idea. It's a dire disgrace!
 No monkey ever deserted his wife,
 Starved her baby, and ruined her life.
 And you've never known of a mother monk
 To leave her babies with others to bunk
 Til they scarce know who is their mother.
 And another thing you'll never see,
 A monk build a fence around a coconut tree
 And let the coconuts go to waste,
 Forbidding all other monks a taste.
 Why, if I put a fence around this tree,
 Starvation would force you to steal
 from me.
 Here's another thing a monk won't do—
 Go out at night and get on a stew,
 Or use a gun or club, or knife,
 Or take some other monkey's life.
 Yes, man descended, the "ornery"
 cuss;
 But, brother, he didn't descend from us!"

—Anonymous Monkey.

TEACHER

There he stands with chalk in hand,
 He's nearly six feet tall,
 And his mathematic genius
 Is sure to thrill them all.
 He'll work with any fraction,
 He'll factor any term,
 And folks agree 'tis sure he has
 The "Mathematic Germ."
 He's the Einstein of old A.R.C.,
 A star that's sure to gleam.
 Of course by now you should have guessed
 Mr. Langford's who I mean.

—John Bowdidge.

TO A BUG IN FORMALDEHYDE

What didst thou do, O beetle?
 What were thy thoughts, O bug,
 When the hunter cruelly seized thee
 From thy home so safe and snug?
 Swift then thou wert resigned
 To a jar of formaldehyde
 To await a curious student
 To cut thee open wide.
 A student now regards thee
 With contemplation smug.
 What were thy thoughts, O beetle?
 What didst thou do, O bug?

—M. W.

Portraits by Breault

Again we have enjoyed photographing you of the Academy and Junior College for The Rainbow. Now that you are about to take future steps as citizens of our city, we hope to keep in close contact with you and your family in years to come.

Thank you,

CLASS OF 1946

We Offer You Our Heartiest Congratulations

Your life has just begun. Many of you will seek higher educational advantages, while others of you will begin your life work immediately. Yet, no matter where you are, or what type of work you are engaged in, all of you are sure to have a home some day. Therefore, whether home to you will mean an apartment for two, or simply "a room with a view," we urge you to start the practice early in life, shopping and saving on all personal and home needs at Sears, Roebuck & Co., "Your family Store in Augusta."
